CHURCH NOTES .- At the Monumental church on Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Weaver read the service and assisted in the administration of the holy communion. The pastor preached. At St. Paul's church, at night, Rev. Mr.

Lee, assistant at St. James church, preached. At the Old Market Hall there has been a steady increase from the first at the Sunday afternoon services. On Sunday the number present was larger than on any former occasion, and the services were deeply impressive. A number of requests were made for special prayer. If the members of the various churches would aid in a good work among the neglected classes of our city, let them attend these meetings. There will be services at the hall this evening at 7½ o'clock. The hall will be lighted with gas and will be comfortably heated. At the First Baptist church the pastor, Rev. E. W. Warren, D. D., occupied the pulpit morning and night. In the morning one person was received by experience. At night he preached an admirable sermon, drawing a striking contrast between the characters of the first brothers, Cain and Abel, and warning the young men of his congregation against the sin of infidelity as portrayed in the character of Cain. The vast audience, which filled the church to overflowing (many not being able to gain admittance), paid the most earnest attention, and were deeply impressed by the words so fit!y spoken by this faithful minister of Christ.

The music by the Monumental quartette, with Mr. Wheat presiding at the organ during this service, was, as usual, very beautiful, the opening piece being an exquisite quartette—"Lord, with Glowing Heart We'll Praise Thee"-and the first hymn, Haste, Traveller, Haste, the Night Comes On," adapted to the melody of the "Cujus Animam," from Rossini's "Stabat Mater." The second and third hymns were sung by choir and congregation to familiar tunes. The Dispatch reporter thought the music admirable, and the sermon about as good as

The large and expensive organ of this church, though admirably played upon on Sunday night, seemed sadly out of repair, and not in very good tune. At Grace-Street Baptist church Rev. Dr.

A. E. Dickinson filled the pulpit morning At Pine-Street Baptist church Rev. J. E. Hutson, of Petersburg, preached in the morning, and four persons were received into the fellowship of the church. At Leigh-Street Baptist church, after preaching by the pastor, the regular communion was had, and three persons received the right hand of fellowship.

At Trinity Methodist Rev. W. E. Judkins, pastor, preached an able sermon in the morning to a large congregation, and administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to an unusually large membership. Bishop D. S. Doggett preached an eloquent sermon at 72 P. M., and presented the cause of the Nashville Publishing-House. A liberal subscription was made to aid the enterprise. At Park-Place Methodist church the religious exercises on Sunday were exceedingly interesting and encouraging. Rev. Dr. Edwards, the pastor, preached morning and night to crowded congregations. The to erect framed buildings in the city-viz. : communion was largely attended. AFTER FEDERAL OFFICE-CONFIDENCE IN THE ELECTION OF TILDEN .- Members of the Legislature are every day called upon to endorse applicants for Federal offices under Tilden. Many astute ones utterly refuse to commit themselves in any way, while others sign all the papers brought them. One upcountry member declares that he has signed a hundred, and in doing so recommended from five to ten men for each office. Many citizens of Richmond have their wits at work to secure eligible positions—such as postmaster, pension agent, marshal, collector of the port, and collector of internal revenue. Positions of lesser importance and pay-such as mail agencies, clerkships here and at Washington, keepers of light-houses, &c., &c.-are also in demand. Some of the highest and some of the lowest members of the Conservative party are moving in this business and renewing their acquaintance with Representative Walker and Senators Withers and

MEETING OF THE STATE GRANGE.-The masters and past masters of subordinate granges and their wives who are matrons met in council at the court-house of their respective counties yesterday to elect representatives to the State Grange.

The State Grange will meet here next Monday. FORBIDDEN FRUIT-A PACKED HOUSE .-Boucicault's company made its first appearance at the Theatre last night, and played Forbidden Fruit to a greatly crowded house, including many ladies. The piece, without rising to or claiming the dignity of literary excellence, is just the thing to please people bent on recreation. It is full of startling situations and ridiculous scenes. One Buster is the ruling genius of the characters. He carries them all through a varied and wonderful course of accidents and incidents.

The company is a good one. Each part s well sustained, and the play goes smoothon from beginning to end, provoking aughter almost every minute. A man reigns for the time all his care and trouble before the curtain has been up ten minutes.

The ladies were delighted. They said it gave them an insight into men's away-fromnome life. And so it did. Every wife who hasn't her husband under good control should see it. They can learn the art in a few easy lessons. Every wife who has her husband pretty well in hand can learn from the best you ever ate, at Pizzini's. Mrs. Buster many new grips.
